Zone A:
Front edge of garden where water enters. Use plants that are shorter and require less water.

Zone B:
These side edges of the garden slope toward the center. Use medium height plants that prefer average soil moisture.

Zone C:
Center of the garden and typically the wettest area. Use medium/tall plants that tolerate wet soil conditions.

Zone D:
Tall plants should be placed at the back of the garden. These plants require average soil moisture.